Which makes the best invisible ink?

Think about how you could make this a fair test.

Write a secret message using a white wax crayon and then a white candle. Then make your invisible message appear by painting over with paint or water containing food colouring.

You might want to write about your findings, show pictures or talk about your experiment it's up to you! You could always search the internet for other invisible ink ideas to try.

We will share our findings during the week beginning 11th December. Investigators will be rewarded with treasure!

Happy investigating!
