

Acre Heads Primary School

"A place to nourish thinking minds"

NEWSLETTER Week 13 Dec 8th 2017

This Week

Foundation Stage - we had a visit from PC Jack Snowdon and loved learning about the role of a Police Officer. We were very excited to go in the Police van and turn the blue lights and sirens on.

Year 1 – we continued to make our Stuart houses, looked for objects made of different materials and are making celebration cards on the iPads.

Year 2 – wrote persuasive letters to Father Christmas stating why we should be allowed on the Polar Express. Investigated whether putting a coat on a snowman will make it melt faster or not.

Year 3 – we have been practising times tables and writing descriptive holiday brochures to persuade Pirates to visit our islands.

Year 4 – lots of varied literacy work on James and the Giant Peach. Making parachutes to investigate air resistance. Identifying play script features. Solving maths Christmas mysteries and examining architecture.

Year 5 – creating instructions on what to do if we meet Santa or his elves. Testing surfaces for friction in Science. Writing a recount of Scrooge's experiences. Battling the ladder method in maths.

Year 6 – we enjoyed watching both Christmas performances, dividing fractions and taking Science assessment. Looking at the subjunctive form of verbs in formal writing. Evaluating mobile phone cases in DT.

Whole School – we have all loved watching the fantastic Foundation Stage and Year 2 Christmas Productions.

Phew! What a busy 'Nativity, Creativity and Christmas Productivity' kind of school.
